Files 26

Before anyone hears her, they see her: one figure, a violin, and the light coming in behind.

Strings of Light is one woman and one violin. Couples are buying a person: a trained musician who chooses every piece with them and plays it live. So the mark is Claire herself, standing in the light her name promises.

Three parts

THE LINE

A moment, held.

Three words for business cards, the end of a reel and the caption under a first look. Always with its full stop. Set in the script only as a single short phrase.

Four audiences

COUPLES

The ceremony

They want the walk down the aisle to feel like theirs: taste they can trust, songs they love, and one person who answers.

PLANNERS

The run of show

Someone who arrives early, brings her own sound, knows the order of service and never needs chasing.

CHURCHES

The service

Sacred repertoire, played with reverence, sensitive to liturgy and to grief.

HOSTS

The evening

Galas and receptions that want elegance in the background and one featured moment.

The promise

For couples and planners across the Southeast, Strings of Light is the violinist who chooses every piece with you, plays it live, and takes care of the music from the first call to the last note.

THE EMBLEM

Claire in an arch of light. The sky is always the full brand gradient, night at the top, gold at her feet.

THE SIGNATURE

Strings of Light in a copperplate script, converted to outlines and spaced by hand. Never retyped.

THE CREDIT

Her name and craft in EB Garamond capitals, widely spaced, as a programme credits the soloist.

On dark grounds

The silhouette always matches the ground, so on dark she seems to step out of it. Use the file made for that ground.

Clear space and size

CLEAR SPACE

x = half the width of the arch. Keep it free on every side: no text, edges or busy photography.

MINIMUM SIZES

Primary 40 mm / 170 px wide · Horizontal 32 mm / 140 px · Signature 25 mm / 110 px · Emblem 6 mm / 16 px tall · Profile picture down to 24 px.

PRINT

Full colour needs CMYK digital or offset. For one-ink jobs (foil, emboss, screen print, embroidery) use the One Colour files.

Profile picture

EVERY SMALL AVATAR

Instagram, Facebook, Google, email, favicon. In the circle, the sky replaces the arch so Claire stays readable at 24 px; this is the only place the arch is left out.

Never

Strings of Light

Never: retype the signature in any font.

Never: stretch the emblem or crop the arch.

Never: recolour the sky.

Never: set it on a busy photograph.

Never: use the silhouette without its sky.

🎻 Strings of Light ✨

Never: add emoji, sparkles or clip art.

The sky and the pairs

The five colours together, top to bottom, are light breaking through darkness: the brand's one flourish. Inside the emblem, and one hero moment per piece. Always vertical, never behind body text.

How Claire is photographed

Four rules

One light

From one side or from behind: a window, low sun, a single spot. Let the rest fall into shadow.

Shoot the silhouette

At golden hour, put the sun behind her. Backlit frames are the emblem made real; plan the next shoot around them.

Playing, not posing

The best pictures catch her mid-phrase. Never hold the violin like a prop.

Warm or black & white

Grade warm toward Halo, never cool or teal. Black and white for the stage and memorials.

How she speaks

Write the way Claire talks to a nervous bride on the phone: warmly, briefly, and with complete confidence that the day will be beautiful.

The light rises

The logo animation: the sky rises inside the arch and reveals Claire, who was there all along in the dark; then the light rays, then her name. 5 seconds. Use it at the end of reels and stories and as a video intro. Never speed it up, loop it or set it over footage. Files in 08_Motion.
